LOVEJOY, ILL.
 The members of the First Corinthian Baptist Church held a memorial service in honor of all the deceased members of the church, which was held by this church or in this part of the community. The list of the deceased covered a period of 25 years. Following the service, the choir sang a very timely song, full of enthusiasm and melody. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. S. Hunter. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Gaines delivered the memorial service, which made an indelible impression upon all who heard his discourse. We are unable to put in words the effectiveness of the sermon. The members of the church have decided to hold a similar service on the anniversary of each year. They also enjoyed a splendid rally given by Community C both spiritually and financially. $12.67 was taken up. We are preparing to entertain our many friends and visitors with an Easter program given and made up of our own talent. Our beloved pastor, Mrs. E. B. Gaines is making a strenuous effort to make it enjoyable for all, and is assisted by the superintendents, Wm. D. West. Welcome to all—Rev. Jas. W. Gaines, pastor; Lela Howard, reporter.

Everyone was disappointed Saturday. The Argus did not come. It arrived Sunday morning and then you could see smiles all around. Why not get the Argus in Friday night's mail so that it will reach its Charleston readers Saturday morning? Mr. Andy Williams, who is employed by the Missouri Pacific at Belmont, has moved his family to Charleston, Mo. Mr. Alvin Dixon and Mrs. Elmer of St. Louis are visiting Mrs. E. Adams at Belmont. The Junior Sisterhood will give a concert at Perry Chapel, the first Monday in April. Mr. Neely Alexander was observed here whereabouts of his son, Leon Alexander, whom he thought was in St. Louis. Hayes, pastor of Shiloh Baptist in Washington, is to meet the Foreign Mission Board, while in interest of his church, before returning home. Rev. E. O. May preached Sunday morning on the subject, "The altar life of the good man." His was a splendid discourse. At night, the Rev. discussed "Baptism" from Moses to John the Baptist, giving abundant proof that baptism was taught and practiced by both the Old and New Testament. The reverend baptized six children and one adult. Next Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, he will preach an Easter sermon and at night the young people will render a special program. Very interesting meeting at the Lincoln School, Tuesday night. The Ladies auxiliary meets Monday afternoon. The Anniversary exercises of the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon was a splendid affair—a good crowd and everybody enjoyed the program. Green is a pioneer Baptist minister in Southeast Missouri and has done much for his church and people during the last 25 years. Mr. E. Quite a number of our people from Belmont and Wolf Island are in Charleston on account of the high water. Mr. Viola Pierce has purchased a machine and will give the Charlestonians an opportunity to see the movies without having to go to the gallery or roof of some burlesque controlled by whites and for whites. It will be a worthy enterprise and one that should be patronized. Have you seen the new Pythian building—by O. L. Prof. H. Adams of Missouri. Those who have seen it say it is a gem. For sale by the author and also by Hon. A. W. Lord, grand chancellor. If you want to know Pythianism, read this new book.

NETHERLANDS, MO.
 Mrs. Dora Yeager
 Sunday was a busy day at the Baptist Church, beginning with a large attendance of the Sunday School, also several visitors. The pleasure of the service was greatly enhanced by the presence of our public school teacher, Mrs. Maude Cunningham, who has been ill for the next few weeks. She made some very encouraging remarks. Others on the sick list are reported to be improving. In the afternoon the annual church bazaar ing sermon of the K. P. and the sisters of the Calathia. Court held in conjunction, Rev. J. W. Collins a number of the order preached the sermon from the subject, "I am doing a great work." Neh. 1:3. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Lloyd made a few remarks of welcome. The sermon naturally followed a very elaborate program which consisted of songs and addresses from the ladies, responded to by the brothers. Collection amounted to $18.00. The service continued throughout the evening. The Argus reporter takes this message of announcing to the public that the sermon special meeting of the executive board of the Women's Home and Foreign Mission Committee will meet with the Circle of Netherlands some time in April. The dates will be made known later.

WHY CITIZENSHIP SCHOOLS?
We ought more, more than at any other time in our country's history, to begin to ask this question of ourselves and others. "What is citizenship?"

Comparatively few of us realize the true meaning of citizenship and responsibilities. We need to educate ourselves, and we need to educate others up to the privileges and advantages of citizenship.

Education, through citizenship schools, is the present and the first duty of the League of Women Voters for 1920. Millions of women will become voters, and because the low standards of citizenship found in the present generation clearly show the great need of education in the principles and ideals of our government.

It is one of the 17,000,000 women voters of America is not well educated in the business of being a citizen. Yet next November it will not be the fault of the League of Women Voters.

Will the three million Negro women voters of America take advantage of this Nation-wide plan of education for citizenship?

ARTICLE XIV. CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Citizenship Rights Not to Be Abridged.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

JUST A LITTLE MORE DEMOCRACY.

The question of a Negro as a delegate-at-large from Missouri to the National Republican Convention at Chicago in June is one that the party leaders cannot afford to overlook at this time. We are pleased to note that a few of the strong party leaders have said that they do not think it democratic to do anything for their reason the fact that the Negro votes of this state is the main dependence upon which the Republican Party hopes for success in the local State, and possibly national, elections.

This is the correct way to face the issue. As a group we are entitled to a delegate-at-large, because every other group is given every other consideration as a matter of course. Then, too, if our voice is so essential to the party, this honor should be conferred to us as a matter of simple justice.

We believe a little more spirit of democracy among the party leaders will be the largest contribution they can make toward its success. The advance thoughts of today call for new adjustment of things. And certain established rules or customs of yesterday must give way to the new of today.

When we are sufficed with the reckoning with as well as other important questions. A change in things is inevitable. It is only the Rep Van Winkle who cannot discern the signs of the times.

In the mad scramble for place and power, we realize that every body cannot be satisfied. But the spirit of a little more democracy would suggest—Come, let us reason together.

A PULL TOGETHER.

Now that the Citizens' Liberty League has endorsed a candidate for Congress from the Twelfth Congressional District of Missouri it seems to us that the wise and thoughtful thing to do is for the people of the district to unite their forces and put over the candidate of their choice.

Mr. Vaughn is a young man of intelligence and experience, a lawyer and soldier. Thorough representative, in that he is well informed upon the issues of the day, and will look after the interest of all the people in the district, state and nation when such an occasion presents itself without fear or favor.

The thing for the people to do now, is to pull together for the common good of all. Be not deceived with the glittering promises of yesterday, but take up the step with the onward march of today.

GETTING BACK AT GOVERNOR MORROW.

The much which lynched and burned a Negro in Kentucky a few days ago was quite characteristic of the "red necks" of the Blue Grass State. It is stated as the Negro was tortured the name of Edward P. Morrow was frequently mentioned. Governor Morrow was not there, nor did he have a representative on the scene. But one thing certain, a governor is responsible for law and order in his state. All the power of a state is at the command of the governor. The laws of the land must be respected at all cost.

The actions of the mob in Kentucky in lynching-burning a Negro is a bold defiance of the law. It is to pull together for the common good of all. Be not deceived with the glittering promises of yesterday, but take up the step with the onward march of today.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad memory of my loving boy, William E. Tazewell, who departed this life March 31, 1914. A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in our home. That never can be filled. Sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Eva Emery, brothers, relatives and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, James E. Marshall, who fell asleep in Jesus three years ago April 5, 1917. Also in loving remembrance of our dear sister and aunt, Nancy West, who died nine years ago, April 10, 1911.

Thank God for the faith that keeps us. That the struggles of life are over. We shall meet all our loved ones. And know them all and more.

What matters the life be weary. And we tread its paths alone. If when the journey is ended. In heaven we'll know our own.

Sadly missed by Mrs. Lucinda Marshall, mother and sister Miss Willette V. Towles.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah Cooper, who left us two years ago, March 31, 1918. The tower of our home is gone. To the bright celestial shore beyond. We strive at her departure. We are thoughtful, kind and true. Although we must not summon. 'Twas God's holy will. We know she left a vacant place. That we never can fill. What is home without you, mother. What are all the joys to me? Since your loving smiles no longer greet the coming of our feet. The days are long, the nights are drear. And time rolls slowly on. How few are life's pleasures since you, dear mother, have gone.

Sadly missed by her children and grandchildren, Mrs. Mildred Weaver, Kansas City, Mo.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my dear mother, who departed this life two years ago, March 31, 1918. Surrounded by friends, I am alone. In the midst of my pleasures I am blue. And on my face still a heartache. Aching and longing for you.

A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in our home. That never can be filled.

A loving mother, true and real. No tears on earth like her I find. God-fearing, kind, and true. By all of us she died her best; may God grant her eternal rest.

Sadly missed by her daughter, Mrs. H. Riddle Bradley, 4305 N. Market St. Kansas City, Mo.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my darling boy, Leo A. Davis, who departed this life two years ago, March 31, 1918. He was a sweet, cheerful, watchful and tender hearted child. But one dead heart is heavier. Than in the world's lowliest ever defended. But has one vacant chair.

Standing by the river we closed his weary eyes. In Jesus' arms he laid 'em down. A lovely level for his crown. We're here through the river. And clutching him in a robe of white. Too beautiful for mortal sight. And he's in the skies.

I cannot and will not say That he is dead, but he is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand. He's wandered into an unknown.

Sadly missed by his sisters, brothers and mother, Mrs. C. H. Davis.

DRAW DIVIDEND ON WHAT YOU BUY.

Stockholders in the Co-operative Liberty Company draw dividends according to the amount of goods they purchase in addition to the dividends paid on the shares of stock they own. (3-24)

Through the Eyes of Youth

What a tendency there is to discourage youthful couples against extravagance as they start out together in married life. "Wait until you are as old as your parents, then spend your money for fine furniture. Most anything will do for the first few years. "Better save your money, children. You don't know what's going to happen to this country after a while." These are samples of expressions you often hear.

There isn't a single person connected with the management of The Only McNichols who believes in willful extravagance, but as we grow older, sometimes we find ourselves misinterpreting the meaning of the word when we set ourselves up as judges over the younger generation. For instance, what we might call extravagance they term it investment. And the funny thing about it is that about half the time they are right.

In the case of furniture, let's carry our thoughts back to the time when we ourselves went through the same experiences. What are our first purchases worth now, if indeed they exist at all? Suppose high grade, correct, refined selections of furniture like you see in The Only McNichols had been made instead, even though some sacrifices were necessary to meet the payments. There would have been pride of possession through the years with a permanent investment yielding pleasure and comfort today.

People age only as they think age. If you, gentle reader, are still youthful in years, the spirit is already there, but if many milestones have been passed, then look at the pleasure of furnishing your home in the right way—through the eyes of youth. This store stands ready to help you in every possible way.
